I should get to the hotel by 5 pm, then go through some gear and may need a run to Home Depot.

What time is everyone rolling into town tomorrow? I wouldn't mind an afternoon/evening meet-up to go over the plan for Wednesday's activities.

Alan, here is the draft sampling plan prepared by the site contractor for insight into where we will eventually be placing sampling devices.

As for our dive plan, do I need to bring a hard copy for signatures? What is the role, if any, of anyone from the site contractor team operating our dive boat need to play in its finalization?

I am attaching what I think is the final dive plan (though I can still make changes). Note, that I did insert a provision to consider use of an assistant to a diver working in shallow water, next to a small watercraft, who is wearing chest waders and other protection for the face and hands. That is in the section on the bottom of page 2 and top of page e "alternatives to diving".

Gary, do you have a “draft” map of the sampling plan? Even if it is draft, we would like to have an idea of the range of depths and locations for proposed sampling devices in order to check out our procedures next week.

Bill,

Here are several things – the cap pore-water sampling plans, the sampling report, GPS coordinates of the toe of the cap, & a picture of the passive pore-water samplers. Please let me know if you have any questions on this.
